

THEY WERE DUMB

The Witnesses in the Broxton Bridge Murder Trial

KEPT THEIR LIPS CLOSED

When Asked Questions They Did Not Want to Answer—A Constitutional Right.

Walterboro, S. C., February 23.—(Special.) A calm preceded the intense excitement expected tomorrow when the arguments in the case against Dr. Ackerman and others, for the lynching of Hannah Walker, will be made and the case given to the jury. There are a number of two Barnard men in town, both sides have conducted the case with marked ability. The defense has not been strong. The prisoners were not upon the stand. No effort was made to prove an alibi to the direct testimony to the fact of the whipping having been done by the defendants. That of Rosa Kearse has been contradicted by two white men, who swore that she told them she did not know the man who whipped her and her husband and mother-in-law, but one of these men was a cousin of Dr. Ackerman and the other a particular friend of the prisoner's and was visiting them in jail.

There is no doubt in the minds of any one as to who did the whipping, but it is generally accepted belief that they did not do it with the intention of producing death.

At the same time there is a feeling in the air that there will be no conviction. This is the opinion of those who know the personal and prejudices of the jury and in that the verdict will depend.

Another Murder Trial.

Trouble is expected here in another case. Cordroy Mimms has been brought down from the penitentiary to stand his trial for the murder, in Marion county, eighteen months ago, of W. P. Moxson, white. Mimms is said to have killed Moxson, mistaking him for a negro who was holding improper relations with his wife. He shot him down in the dark. A change of venue was had to this county, and in the face of two or three hundred men, marching over from Hampton to lynch him, Sheriff Black sent the prisoner away to the penitentiary. He was met at the depot on his arrival by a squad of men armed with rifles and escorted to the jail, which is guarded.

The sheriff has received notice that an attempt will be made to lynch the prisoner if he is acquitted. It is practically certain that such an attempt will be made, but the officers of the law will be prepared to resist.

The official stenographer of this circuit says that all his long experience has never known a similar case to that here yesterday, when Adam Folk and Preston Hiers availed themselves of their constitutional right in refusing to reply to questions. It was a most peculiar situation, for by refusing to answer the reason for so doing, they doubtless conveyed to the jury the impression that the solicitor desired.

Solicitor Bellinger, conducting the case with marked ability. He has declined to employ assistant counsel and with the exception of Detective W. H. Newborn, who sits at his side, and renders valuable assistance, he stands alone while the five vigilant lawyers are watching every move with that interest that only attaches to matters of life or death. It is seldom that such an array of important evidence is produced in one day as that brought out by the state on the second day of the trial.

Witnesses Called.

Malcolm Wood was the first witness called. He was a merchant and lived in Hampton county half a mile from Broxton bridge on a road that leads by Frank Kearse's. On the night of the killing there were a number of negroes at his store. About 8:30 o'clock Dr. Ackerman came in and ordered a pair of shoes. Saw him at the door. Ackerman said he was going to a little frolic. Did not know what direction he came from. It was not unusual for him to be there.

Cross-examined—Dr. Ackerman is a practicing physician and a single man; George Robertson, colored, was at Wood's store on the fatal night; while the store there; saw Dr. Ackerman and Frank Kearse in one buggy; saw another buggy; couldn't say whether they were white or colored; the party went toward Broxton bridge.

Frank Robertson, colored, was at Wood's store the night of the killing. He was killed. His testimony was practically the same as that of the preceding witness. He saw a buggy and cart, and the driver was white. He saw the party, but only recognized him as the party who was killed.

Jonathon Grant, colored, was at the store that night. He saw the party, but only recognized him as the party who was killed. He saw the party, but only recognized him as the party who was killed.

MARTIN LAY IN WAIT

Daggers Took Him for a Burglar and Yanked Him Out.

BROTHER OFFICERS SAVED HIM

Policemen Charles Martin Held in a Fruit Stand To Capture Thieves, but Got Caught Himself.

Patrolman Charles Martin was rescued from the hands of two thieves at the Whitehall street crossing last night at midnight by two of his fellow officers. He was dragged out of the fruit stand of the foreigners in the belief that he was a burglar and quickly wallowed on the sidewalk and held while the daggers called for the police.

The officer stationed himself in the fruit stand to capture some negroes who he believed intended to rob the stand. The daggers happened to go to the place, and finding the officer there, yanked him out by the neck and proceeded to wipe up the sidewalk with him before assistance arrived. Officer Martin could not convince the thieves that he was not a burglar and things looked equally for him until the arrival of Officers Reed and Terry, who heard the shouts of all-policemen and daggers. The officer was in citizen's clothing and he appeared to the daggers to be a real burglar.

The fruit stand in question has been there several times recently. Thieves carried away a lot of fruit from the stand. WORK AT TRINITY

Members on a Working Basis.

AT THE OTHER CHURCHES

Dr. Barnett and Strickler Preach Able Sermons at Their Respective Churches.

Never before in the history of Trinity church has the membership of that church presented a more solid organization. Under the pastoral care of Dr. J. W. Roberts the membership has steadily increased and every Sabbath morning the sanctuary is crowded to overflowing.

Dr. Roberts is a hard worker, a deep thinker and a splendid pulpit orator. He keeps abreast of the times, while he holds tenaciously to the old gospel truths. His sermons are full of life and power.

Dr. T. R. Kendall, wife of Dr. Kendall, pastor of Grace church, she spoke for Trinity church in the interest of the Woman's Parsonage Aid and Home Mission Society, of which she is secretary.

Mrs. Kendall is a pleasant, easy and graceful speaker and no doubt made many of our friends as well as revived many old ones for this one of the greatest, if not the very greatest, and most noble work in the Methodist church. The large audience gave to Mrs. Kendall the closest attention.

Dr. Roberts preached from the following text:

And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.—John 12:32.

These are the words of Christ spoken of himself. He is the Son of God, the only begotten, and the only true God. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father.

He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father.

He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father.

He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father.

He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father.

He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father.

He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father.

He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father. He is the life of the world, the light of the world, the way to the Father.

the pit of traitorous politicians among the damned, he will be true to his fellow men, his country and his God.

Merritts Avenue Church. At Merritts Avenue church Rev. Peter A. H. Roberts, the pastor, preached at 11 a. m. His text was Cor. 13:12. He said that temptation taken by man but such as is common to man; but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able, but will with the temptation also make a way to escape that ye may be able to bear it.

temptation is part of every man's life. We are in a state of temptation so long as we may be reached by Satan, the prince of this world, the fallen angel who lures men on to the loss of their souls. At every step we may set our feet in one of the snares set by the adversary of our souls. We are within the almost infinite snare-works of the devil and we must constantly watch our way.

This world is a trial, a state of probation for man, and while man is in this world, he is a free moral agent, he is a being who is subject to temptation and choice of right or wrong. No man is tempted by the devil, but he is tempted by his own nature.

It is so recorded, Christ left the persuasion of Satan and evaded it. He had his fidelity to God tested, and he was faithful. He entered upon his ministry. Man's life is really the test of his fidelity to God. He must enter upon the path of duty, he must enter upon the path of duty, he must enter upon the path of duty.

Our temptations bear the same relation to our souls as the temptations of the athlete or the perplexing problem to the student. The vital forces and the active agents of the natural world are the temptations that are best. A man with a heart of heat, storms and earthquakes would be a man of heat, storms and earthquakes. Temptations are the strength of the soul. Job is a shining example of a man who was tempted by the devil.

Exhibits Which Were in the Negro Building Now in the North.

BOOKER WASHINGTON SPEAKS He Tells His Audience of the Work Which the Tuskegee and Hampton Schools Are Doing.

The exhibits which the Tuskegee and Hampton institutions made at the Cotton States and International exposition are now in New York. It will be remembered that these displays, representing what the young negroes are doing in their manual training schools, were about the best things in the negro building. The displays were sent from Atlanta to New York, and on Friday night were opened to the public in the Victoria hotel building, at Fifth avenue and Twenty-seventh street.

The exhibits consist of tools, traps, barrows, harness, saddlebags, chairs, etc., and samples of wood carving, drawing, painting, weaving and the various arts and manual and agricultural industries which are being taught the negroes and Indians at the Hampton Institute, Virginia, and the colored boys and girls at the Tuskegee Institute in Alabama.

The opening of the exhibits was a public and largely attended meeting in the Victoria hotel building, at Fifth avenue and Twenty-seventh street. The exhibits were opened to the public on Friday night, and the opening was a public and largely attended meeting.

Rock Island, will abolish the position of traveling manager, made vacant by the death of W. W. Sage.

Some of the northern roads are doing a heavy ice business. John White, traveling passenger agent of the Georgia road, has just celebrated his fiftieth birthday.

There is to be a meeting in New York this week of southern traffic men. The apportionment of business from the east will come up again.

Louisville and Nashville's gross earnings for the second week in February were $210,000, an increase of $20,000 over the corresponding week of last year. For the five-year period up to date the increase is $722,000.

The sale of the Little Rock and Memphis, scheduled to take place next Monday, has been postponed until May 12th. This is the fifth postponement of the sale. The difficulty is that there are no prospective purchasers.

New York director of the Wabash, speaking of the prospects of business, says: "There has been an unusual delay in the movements of corn this year, but the bearing of this upon the traffic of the company has been very small. The following figures show the position of the company: An equal toll of stations in Illinois, Missouri and Iowa shows 3,000,000 bushels of corn now in storage at local stations. Good roads will double this quantity in certain days. This is our traffic just as it is. It is a very interesting fact.

An official of the Illinois Steel Company mentions an interesting fact about the business situation. A year ago this company had orders on its books for between 200,000 and 250,000 tons of steel rails. Today it has orders booked for about 10,000 tons. This is a very interesting fact.

Beginning March 1st the Erie road will charge for carrying bicycles, whether or not they are loaded with goods, a minimum charge is fixed at 15 cents. The minimum is not to exceed 20 per cent of the passenger fare. Tickets for bicycles will be purchased when the regular passenger ticket is bought.

CARR'S FATE UNDECIDED. Seems That the Legislature Must Meet and Pass a Law. It is the general opinion that Alex Carr will not be heard on the Carr case, as ordered by Judge Clark a few weeks ago.

The governor will refer the case of Carr to the attorney general, and it is thought that he will advise that Carr be respite until the legislature meets, when some law may be passed governing the Carr case.

JAMES PYLE'S PEARLINE COMPOUND THE GREAT INVENTION FOR SAVING TIME AND EXPENSE WITHOUT INJURY TO THE TEXTURE OF THE HAIR.

There's room for a little more of it. Too many women are wasting time and strength over a wash-board; rubbing their clothes to pieces; wasting their money. You'd be astonished if you could figure up the actual money saving in a year by the use of Pearline. Millions of women are using it now, but just suppose that all women were equally careful and thrifty, and that every one used Pearline! It's too much to hope for—but the whole country would be the richer for it.

Send it Back. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you that Pearline is the same as "Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, send it back.

A BATTLE THIS WEEK

Senor Llorens Says That Gomez and Weyler Will Come Together.

ESTRADA PALMA MAY BE HERE

Weyler Issues Another Proclamation. General Gomez Has a Narrow Escape from Being Killed.

Senor Llorens, the Atlanta Cuban who has given The Constitution interesting news on former occasions concerning the revolution in his country, was seen again last night and gave the following, fresh from the scene of the great struggle:

"We have to be very careful in writing to and from Cuba. The Spaniards have enforced a new policy and now read every letter that leaves the island in order to destroy any favorable news that may be sent out for the Cuban cause. I have instituted a code of characters with a friend of mine on the island and I still continue to receive the news.

"Gomez narrowly escapes. I am in receipt of a letter today which states that General Gomez came very near being killed in a small engagement a few days ago. His horse was shot from under him and he was almost killed by the shot of his hat, but the general was not injured.

"My friend also writes that times are very hard on the island. Business is almost paralyzed and it is exceedingly hard for the poorer classes to find enough to eat.

"General Weyler has issued another proclamation that has sent great fear to the heart of every Cuban. He gives the natives living in the country exactly ten days to move into the cities now occupied by Spanish forces. At the expiration of this period those not having complied with this request will be considered as Cuban sympathizers and will be immediately shot. This decree has almost caused a panic. Some of the Cubans are too poor to move and even if they could do so, it would be almost impossible to find a dwelling and the necessary comforts to sustain life.

"A decisive battle will be fought this week between the joint armies of Gomez and Macao and Weyler. Preparations are quickly being made and this engagement will greatly help to decide the dependence or independence of Cuba.

"Gomez is still within twenty miles of Havana and about forty miles from Macao, who still occupies a strong position in Pinar del Rio. The two are in constant communication and could come together in a day's time.

"I have also received a letter from Dr. Valdez Dominguez, who is a very prominent revolutionist, and he states that the outside world does not know of the real power and seal of the Cuban armies. There is a wonderful unity and systematic discipline throughout the entire force that is going to play havoc with Spain in a very short while. The system of signals is so complete that should a single shot be fired in place on one extreme end of the island it would be known in the other in less than two hours. The Spaniards greatly outnumber but the facts are not in the least discouraging to our forces.

"Estrada Palma, who is at the head of the Cuban movement in this country, is making a tour of the United States in the interest of the Cuban cause. He is now in Key West, Fla., where he received a few days ago in a most enthusiastic style. Business was temporarily suspended in his honor and long parades and great demonstrations were held to emphasize the strong Cuban sentiment which exists in that city.

"Senor Palma is a very capable man and it may be possible that he can be induced to stop in Atlanta. If he does, he will make several addresses and will be enthusiastically received by the local Cubans."

Gomez Narrowly Escapes.
I am in receipt of a letter today which states that General Gomez came very near being killed in a small engagement a few days ago. His horse was shot from under him and he was almost killed by the shot of his hat, but the general was not injured.

REMAINS OF MR. JONES HERE.
Arrived from Thomaston Last Night. Funeral This Afternoon.
The remains of William Mitchell Jones were brought to Atlanta last night from Thomaston on the 8:15 train. Accompanying the remains was Mr. Rambo.

Mr. Jones was a well known insurance man. He was of the insurance firm of Rambo, Jones & Co. He had been in bad health for some time and his death at Thomaston Saturday was not a surprise to those who knew of his physical condition. Over a year ago Mr. Jones went to Europe on a business trip, and he had been in bad health for some time and his death at Thomaston Saturday was not a surprise to those who knew of his physical condition.

FREDERICK D. LOSEY.
The Greatest Impersonator of Dickens's Quaint Characters.
On Thursday evening will occur, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association star concert, one of the best attractions ever given in the association auditorium, when Mr. Frederick D. Losey will give a wonderful impersonation of Dickens's "A Christmas Carol." Mr. Losey appeared on the course last year and presented "Oliver Twist," and made a great hit. He has been in the business for nearly ten years and has been prominently before the public as one of the leading impersonators on the lecture platform. He has met with great success and has been particularly successful in his impersonation of Dickens's characters. He has been particularly successful in his impersonation of Dickens's characters.

WAITING FOR MR. VENABLE.
Then Mr. Inman, Mr. Woodward and Mr. Thomas Will Confer with Him.
"I am waiting on Mr. Venable's return from New Orleans," said Mr. Inman a day or two ago when asked about the pending issue of apartments in the building of the Venable brothers are to construct at Marietta and Forsyth streets for the offices, council chamber, vaults and storage room for Atlanta.

"We can do nothing in the matter," he remarked "until Mr. Venable returns, and therefore there is no reason why I should call the committee together. We have had no word from him for some time, and the fact is the result. Mr. Venable went away from Atlanta and we could do nothing with our side alone present. It takes two parties to make a trade and only one of the two, the city of Atlanta, represented by that special committee of three, is here, so nothing can be done."

"What is the line of the contemplated compromise between Atlanta and the Messrs. Venable?" was asked.

"No line has been defined. It is known that the Atlanta council chamber, offices for the employees who are required to have offices, for which a round sum is paid and that Atlanta gives $5,000 a year to the military for armory rent.

"As I understand it the idea of the compromise is to secure enough space in the Venable building for a vault for all the archives, for offices for all the officers and for an armory for the military. The committee speak for myself and not for the committee further than to say we can do nothing until Mr. Venable returns."

WILL MANAGE TWO.

MR. WARREN LELAND, JR., WILL RUN THE OCEAN HOUSE

At Newport—Will Not Give Up His Connection with the Kimball House, However.

Mr. Warren Leland, Jr., manager of the Kimball, will also manage the Ocean house, at Newport, the coming summer. This does not mean, however, that he will sever his connection with the Kimball. He will go north about the middle of May to direct the overhauling of the Ocean house, which he has open about the middle of June. He will find there no congenial or profitable month he will run down to Atlanta to see how things are going at the Kimball and if his presence is required he will come at a moment's notice.

This connection is looked upon as a good thing for the Kimball, as well as for the Ocean house. Newport, as every one knows, is the swiftest of the fashionable water resorts. It has more wealth any one day than the summer than all the other resorts on the Atlantic coast put together have during an entire season. Bellevue avenue is lined with the palaces of millionaires. The Vanderbilts, Golets, Lorillards and dozens of the immensely rich have their summer homes on Bellevue. Saratoga, Long Branch and other watering places have had their day of prosperity, their great crowds with the races and the gamblers mingling with the would-be exclusives. Newport steadily grows more popular and the sporting element finds there no congenial or profitable place to work. Newport bars the gamblers and the races, Bellevue avenue shows a line of turnouts every day that will vie with Central park.

The Ocean house is five or six years old. It is a large hotel and is centrally located, adjoining the famous Casino and has a great reputation as an excellent hostelry. Mr. Leland managed the house two years ago. It goes without saying that it will be maintained in the very best style. Mr. Leland does not spare expense in the management of the house with which he is connected, and at the same time the receipts in the long run warrant his methods of keeping everything up to the highest pitch. He will add to the popularity of the hotel and will keep it open all the time of the Kimball's interests. The Ocean house is almost within a stone's throw of the bathing beach, and of the harbor, where the yachts anchor at night. The view from the house is superb by day and night. The southerners who go to Newport will be right in the swim at the Ocean house. There will be no material change in the force at the Kimball, and when the Newport season ends in September, Mr. Leland will return here for the fall and winter.

COMMISSIONS UNDER THE BAN.
The Southern Roads Agree To Pay Only Through Business.
A circular has been issued by the Southern States Passenger Association in regard to paying commissions to ticket and passenger agents. A few weeks ago Commissioner Thomas attended a meeting of passenger officials in St. Louis. They discussed the question of paying commissions to ticket and passenger agents. The western lines are allowed to pay commissions on business originating in their territory for the territory of the Southern States Passenger Association, or for points beyond. The rest of the territory, however, will not pay commissions on business coming into this section, but will pay for business originating in the west and passing through the south for the north.

DR. REDDING PATE IS DEAD.
He Fell to the Ground and Expired at His Home.
Dr. J. B. S. Holmes went down to Unadilla, Dooley county, yesterday to attend the wife of ex-representative Redding Pate. Two or three other physicians were at the house. Dr. Pate was taken to the hospital and Dr. Pate went out to look after some servants. While in the yard walking to the barn, he fell to the ground and never rose. The physicians being unable to do anything for him.
